

Guidance for the Master thesis and colloquium as part of the double degree programme with the partner universities: Napier University, Anglia Ruskin University, South Wales University, Griffith College, Kristianstad University:

UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES
LANDSHUT

FACULTY
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

PROFESSOR
Dr.-Ing. Alexander Kumpf

Academic Dean and Course Leader
MASTER INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

DATE
May 13, 2020

Prerequisites:

- To obtain a double degree, the study course regulations of both universities (UAS Landshut & partner university) apply.
- The Master thesis must be submitted simultaneously to both universities by the student.
- The Master thesis must be supervised and assessed by both universities.

Regulations:

- The Master thesis must be registered at both universities. If the registration time or submission deadline or the duration of the thesis study differ, then in each case the earliest time line applies. If applicable, the Master thesis should be registered at UAS Landshut at the earliest possible date.
- The student should seek an approved Supervising Professor for his or her Master thesis at the UAS Landshut. Approval of the supervising professor at the partner university is according to the regulations of that partner university.
- Both the first Supervising Professors at UAS Landshut and the partner university take responsibility for being the second Supervising Professor at the other university.
- Both supervising professors agree on the objectives, the procedure, the process of assessment (e.g. time of submission, time of assessment, announcement of grades) of the master thesis and are available as contact persons for the student.
- The Master thesis must be submitted in electronic and/or physical form to both supervising professors simultaneously. If the thesis is submitted electronically, the physical copy must be submitted in a timely manner. Both versions must be identical.
- Students are solely responsible for the correct execution of the registration, adherence to the processing time and submission of the Master thesis. Exceeding the processing time and failure to meet the deadline will result in a grade of 5.0 (not passed) for the thesis at the UAS Landshut.
- The student should attend the master colloquium at UAS Landshut as early as possible during the assessment of the Master thesis. The supervising professor at the UAS Landshut attends the master colloquium and evaluates it together with the head of the master colloquium. The supervising professor of the partner university can also attend the master colloquium.
