What do students say?

“I met really good friends in my first days. England is different, and the type of studying is completely different, but the University staff are giving their best to advise their international students. There are many English language modules you can choose or English lessons that are not compulsory which you can join every week. For instance, I have never written any assignments in my life and they suggested I take a module for academic writing to improve my skills. In my opinion, it is important to feel comfortable and welcome when you decide to stay for a long period of time in a place you’ve never been before. I never thought I would say this after a few months, but it has been one of the best experiences of my life.”
