

Terms of use for user identification (User Account)

Account within the meaning of the Terms of Use is the user identification - login and associated password - as well as the associated authorisation to use IT systems provided by Landshut University of Applied Sciences. Only students enrolled at Landshut University of Applied Sciences or employees or contractual partners of Landshut University of Applied Sciences who agree to the terms of use are authorised to use the website.

The user has no claim to access to IT systems, the proper functioning, the offer of internet services, and the offer of software. Accounts are personal, disclosure to third parties is prohibited. Misuse may result in the withdrawal of the account and criminal consequences. The use of the account is misuse

- a) if the behaviour of the user violates the terms of use and relevant legal provisions (e.g. criminal law, law for the protection of minors, data protection law),
- b) if it serves to commit, promote or incite illegal acts with it (e.g. copyright, licensing law, computer sabotage, etc.),
- c) in the case of gross violations of netiquette (general net behaviour),
- d) if activities are undertaken without the consent of the university that do not serve the intended use of the account and university portals and can lead to a high load on the infrastructure, such as the use of robots, web spiders or similar technologies in order to read content provided by the university for the purpose of data collection and evaluation or to import content/data into university portals via this,
- e) if it harms Landshut University of Applied Sciences.

The user is fully liable to Landshut University of Applied Sciences and third parties for improper and illegal use and culpably caused damage.

The university is not liable for the information and data transmitted and made available or for the consequences thereof, neither for their correctness and completeness, nor that they are free of third-party rights or that the sender is acting lawfully by making the data accessible, offering them or sending them.

The user alone is responsible for backing up his or her own data.

The distribution of commercial offers or the commercial distribution of products of any kind via the servers provided by Landshut University of Applied Sciences and the scientific network WIN/MWN is prohibited. Advertising, distribution or making available of, for example, indexed games, propaganda material of anti-constitutional organisations of all kinds as well as any kind of pornography will be prosecuted. Landshut University of Applied Sciences reserves the right to limit at any time both the amount of free disk space available and the number of printouts (or the amount of materials required) per user or to regulate this by means of user cost contributions (PrintAccounting). In this context, each user must ensure (in his or her own interest) that his or her password is kept secret. Disadvantages and costs arising from improper handling or behaviour, for example, shall be borne by the user himself/herself.

The user agrees that advertising e-mails (spam e-mails) addressed to him or her will not be accepted. The respective defined procedure for dealing with spam ("spam policy") by the e-mail provider used by Landshut University of Applied Sciences, such as the spam policy of the LRZ, is decisive.

The user has no claim to the delivery of his HTML pages via the server of Landshut University of Applied Sciences or to hyperlinks from Landshut University of Applied Sciences pages to his or her pages.

Landshut University of Applied Sciences reserves the right to block WWW pages that are stored on its IT systems and whose content violates legal regulations, either partially or completely, for an indefinite period of time, as well as to revoke the account of the person responsible.

In addition to these terms of use, the usage regulations for information processing systems and the service-specific regulations of the Leibniz Supercomputing Centre of the Bavarian Academy of Sciences and Humanities shall apply insofar as systems or services of the Leibniz Supercomputing Centre of the Bavarian Academy of Sciences and Humanities are used: <https://www.lrz.de/wir/regelwerk/>

Data protection: Data protection is determined by the respective declarations on the processing of personal data given for individual applications and services for their use for specific purposes. When accessing IT systems via the account, personal data is processed on the basis of Art. 6 para. 1 Bavarian Data Protection Act, insofar as this is necessary to ensure network and information security.

Insofar as the data concerns the contents and circumstances of telecommunications, which are subject to the secrecy of telecommunications (Art. 88 Telecommunications Act- TKG-), the service provider (e.g. the LRZ as an e-mail provider) only receives knowledge insofar as this is necessary to provide the telecommunications services or to protect the technical systems (Art. 88 para. 3 TKG).

The processing of personal data by users on the IT systems provided by the university must be carried out in accordance with the provisions of data protection law, in particular the Bavarian Data Protection Act.

Important note

As a user of the account, you agree to the above terms of use. We would like to point out once again that violations of legal provisions or the terms of use will result in the revocation of the account and, if applicable, criminal consequences.
